

Why t-SNE over PCA for visualization?

- The visualization illustrates how distances between points are computed by PCA (dotted line) and t-SNE (solid line).
- The points, which are actually distant as per structure of data, are interpreted as similar (close) by PCA
- However, t-SNE captures the local structure correctly and interprets them as dissimilar (far apart)

